We also enhance access to and utilization of advanced technologies for citizens of its service area by:

    providing an alternative to the traditional classroom
    providing state-of-the art training

Historically, LCCC's

Integrated technology services (ITS), which provides and maintains SMART classrooms, AV services, computer labs, and support for distance education programs;
Student services, such as advising, counseling, admissions (including orientation), student records, and financial aid;
Career pathway development (the process of building a template for the completion of a specific career program of study, including how to remediate any deficits that may hinder completion), career pathway coaching (the process of helping students complete the program), and internship opportunities;
Campus Living and Learning programs, including residence life and student life activities;
Business services (facilities); and Instructional services such as the Student Success Center, SAGE TRiO, and Disability Resource Center.

Faculty, staff, and administrators have embraced the use of technology to enhance the classroom experience and as a tool in providing services to students and other stakeholders. As a result, the College was named the #1 Tech-Savvy Community College in the nation for mid-size community colleges, according to the 2007, 2008, and 2009 Digital Community College survey.

As a   community college, LCCC provides for the diverse learning needs of students and the community. In addition to instructional programs, LCCC has identified key organizational services that are critical to this vision. These are cultural programs and community development, promotion of lifelong learning, and civic engagement.

LCCC provides cultural programs and community development through events and activities such as the following.
Cultural development activities include thirteen Cultural Series (e.g., Bank of the West Music Series, Gerald and Jessie Chambers Speakers Series, Esther & John Clay Watercolor Workshop, Union Pacific Business Series & Industry). Additional cultural development events are held in the art gallery, playhouse, concerts (CSO and other community groups), and the Ludden Library Diversity Program.
Economic and workforce development activities include actively working with business and industry, as well as community economic development groups (Chambers of Commerce, Business Council, Cheyenne
